THURS. AUG. 21, 2003:

THE PEOPLE OF PORTLAND

vs.

GEORGE BUSH & VERA KATZ

A VERY SPECIAL ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

During his last visit to the City of Roses, on August 22, 2002, George Bush raised hundreds of thousands of dollars for Senator Gordon Smith at an exclusive dinner downtown. Thousands of Portlanders protested his presence, his policies, and his illegitimate presidency. But Mayor Vera Katz sent her jack-booted thugs out and violence ensued as police beat and pepper-sprayed non-violent people expressing their Constitutional rights. Among the victims was an infant, less than a year old, who was pepper-sprayed in the face. The corporate media lied, as it always does, and called it a riot. The city is being sued for its extreme behavior.

Now, almost exactly a year later, Bush is comin’ back. Stand up! Don’t let him or Vera take away your rights! Hit the streets! Show the powers-that-be that we’re alive and kicking and won’t be kept down! Tell those fuckers who’s boss: We, The People, not them, the corrupt and greedy.

Exact time and date to–be–announced.
